

RYA Senior Instructor

£17,500 - £21,000 a year - Contract

The Helford River Children's Sailing Trust is a charity based in Cornwall that enables children and young people to develop life skills and grow in confidence by learning to sail independently and taking part in water sports on the Helford River.

As a result of some major bequests, the Trust has been able to acquire a 25 acre flooded quarry on the Lizard at Trevassack.

It is intended that this will complement the existing operations on the river and will importantly become a superb facility for children with special needs and disabilities, both locally and from all over the country. Design and development work is well under way.

As the Trust continues to grow and build its capabilities to offer additional support and services to children from around the UK, we now need to add to our core team with an additional RYA Senior Instructor for both river and lake activities.

This role is required to add strength to the Instructor team initially on The Helford River, and then as the development of Trevassack Lake gains pace, to help with instructing children there as well.

This is a seasonal role for a 7 month period from April through to October, but we are ideally looking for someone willing to commit for a number of years.

The role will report directly into the Chief Instructor, and will take a lead area of responsibility for equipment and overall session delivery i.e. sailing, rowing, paddlesports, powerboats.

You will bring at least 2 years/seasons of instructor experience, ideally you will have BCU Level 1 Coach or Paddlesports Leader/Instructor qualifications with the appropriate level of first aid training. It would also be of benefit if you hold an RYA Powerboat Instructor qualification.

If you have Sailability or Paddleability qualifications or any experience working with children with SEND (Special Education Needs & Disability) then these would be a significant benefit.

Most importantly you will share the great passion we all have for this charity and will want to work in a casual (but professional), enjoyable and respectful environment.
